

COOKIES POLICY

The website www.folia-stretch.pl (hereinafter the "Website") uses cookies and similar technologies for the purposes described below.

The entity that places cookies on the Website User's computer and obtains access to them is Zakład Produkcji Foliai "EFEKT Plus" sp. z o.o., with its registered office in Warsaw, ul. Złota 44/334, KRS company registration number 0000186179.

This Policy explains what cookies are and why we use them. When we talk about the rules regarding "cookies", we also mean other similar technologies that work in the same way as cookies. When we talk about the rules regarding "computers", we mean not only computers, but also smartphones, tablets and other devices used to access the Website.

Cookies are small text files that are transferred to the user's computer when visiting a website. These files allow to recognize the user's device and thus allow to properly display the website (i.e. adjust it to the individual preferences of the user). Cookies cannot read or modify any other data on your computer.

There are two types of cookies: (i) session cookies and (ii) persistent cookies.

Persistent cookies remain on your computer until they are deleted by the website user or their validity expires.

Both types of cookies can be classified into one of four categories:

- i. Strictly necessary cookies - enabling navigation on the website and the use of services within the website
- ii. Functional cookies - allow the website to remember selected options (such as user name, language or region in which it is located) and provide access to improved, more personalized website functions
- iii. Analytical cookies - enabling the collection of information on the use of the website pages
- iv. Third-party cookies - some websites may have built-in add-ons such as "social media" or sharing buttons. When using this type of action buttons, a cookie file may be defined automatically by the website you used by triggering the appropriate action using the button. Such cookies can only be turned off by appropriate configuration on the website of the provider of a given website. Some websites may display advertisements. In this case, the cookies collect information about the user's habits and then use this information to personalize advertisers' advertisements displayed on the website.

On our website, we use both types of cookies, i.e. (i) cookies created for a given session and (ii) persistent cookies.

The cookies we collect will be used only to: (i) enable logging in and maintaining user sessions on each subsequent page of the Website, (ii) adjusting the content of the Website's page to the individual preferences of the user, in particular, these files allow to recognize the user's device and accordingly display a website tailored to his/her individual needs, (iii) creating anonymous statistics with the user identification option turned off.

When using the pages of the Website, you can receive cookies from third parties (such as Facebook, Google, Twitter), as well as from certain entities directly cooperating with us (advertisers, research companies, multimedia application providers, etc.). Such cookies are subject to their own cookie policy, and you can find more information about them on their websites. We recommend that you read them, because the company is not responsible for the privacy practices of these websites.

Each user can manage and control cookies installed on his/her computer by configuring his/her web browser in such a way that it notifies you about the received cookies and allows you to decide whether to accept or reject a cookie. Moreover, you can block all cookies using your browser settings. To change browser settings, select Help from the browser's menu bar and follow the instructions. If you do not change your browser settings for cookies, you accept the cookies used by the Website.

When changing the cookie management settings, it should be remembered that this may have an adverse effect on the operation of selected applications/websites that use these functionalities.

Dear User, our cookie policy may be amended from time to time without notice, so it is important that you review it on a regular basis so that you are fully aware of any amendments.
